Kifowit: Invites Residents to Nominate Businesses Who Give Back

AURORA, Ill. – In recognition of area businesses who are charitable leaders in their community, state Rep. Stephanie Kifowit, D-Oswego, is accepting nominations for her ‘Good Neighbor’ Business Award to showcase these leaders and award them for their generosity.

“Our area is lucky to be home to so many businesses that go above and beyond when it comes to helping those in need,” Kifowit said. “This kindness often goes unrecognized, so I think it is important we shine a light on those who are doing the right thing and making our area a more pleasant place to work and raise our families.”

Kifowit is encouraging residents to nominate businesses that either donate to local charitable organizations or have given a financially-struggling customer a break. To reward these businesses and encourage others to take part in giving back to the community, Kifowit will review nominations and give those selected a ‘Good Neighbor’ Business award. Nominations should include the name and address of the business, as well as some examples of charitable activities and will be accepted on a continuous basis. Kifowit will visit a nominated business throughout the year and present them with a certificate. Past winners include Culver’s, Eagle Academy of Martial Arts, and the Montgomery Goodwill.

“I am looking forward to learning more about how local businesses are having a positive impact in our community,” Kifowit said. “I encourage everyone to nominate businesses making a difference in our area and I hope this award encourages others to give back.”
